

Rumbleship FAQs

GET FLEXIBLE TERMS WITH A SINGLE CLICK

Rumbleship is a payment gateway that allows brands to extend terms to all their retailers with zero risk. Now that your supplier is working with us you might have some questions...

1. How does it work?

Rumbleship offers you terms directly at checkout. When on-boarded, a new button will appear in your checkout. It will look something like this. You will securely connect your bank account and payments are done automatically. No more bills.

2. Do terms cost me anything?

NO! Rumbleship does not cost you anything.

3. How long are the terms?

The terms you have access to vary based upon the supplier, Net 30, Net 45, Net 60, and Net 90 are the most common options.

4. What if I don't need terms and I want to pay now?

You always have the option to pay now, we'll even give you money back.

5. How do I get started?

To get started is simple. Choose your terms and instantly connect your bank account when checking out.

6. Wait, I can't find my bank?

If your bank is not listed in our 1700+ integrations, you can also connect your bank account manually.
